Our Privacy Policy

Credit Unions, like all providers of personal financial services, are now required by law to inform affected parties (you) of our policies regarding the privacy of personal information collected. Our company has been and continues to be obligated by professional standards of confidentiality that mirror or exceed the requirements of Federal Regulations. It has always been our policy to maintain strict controls over your personal information and your right to privacy.

Information We Collect

Nonpublic personal information about you is collected, that is either provided to us by you or obtained by us with your authorization.

Parties to Whom We Disclosure Information

For all affected parties, we do not disclose any nonpublic personal information obtained in the course of our practice except as required or permitted by law. Permitted disclosures includes providing information where required by Federal and State Tax Law and to those agencies who are required to know that information in order to comply with that law.

We do not market any information about you.

Protecting the Confidentiality and Security of Affected Parties

We retain the information collected to support our work product to meet our client's professional needs. In order to safe guard your nonpublic information we maintain physical, electronic, and procedural protection that comply with professional standards.

Please contact us if you have any questions, since your privacy and our professional ethics are important.
